California Mill Equipment Company is Proud to Announce a New Partnership With:

Columbia/Okura is the home for robotic palletizing systems. For over 10 years Columbia/Okura has been the premier provider of robotic palletizing equipment; four-axis, multi-articulated robots, proven end-of-arm tooling, controls, conveyors, guarding... everything your company needs to increase productivity and decrease unnecessary costs. Whether you are a small startup business or a Fortune 500 company, Columbia/Okura has the experience and expertise to effortlessly integrate a palletizing system.

The benefits of a robotic palletizer to your company are numerous, not only in speed, but handling, labor, cost, and flexibility. Whatever product you palletize, Columbia/Okura robotic palletizers can put you ahead of the competition with the right palletizing equipment for your needs.

Representatives at California Mill Equipment Company are ready to meet with your company to discuss your specific needs. Please call to schedule an appointment.
